Upcoming Guild Events and Programs

From our Mentor Program to an exhibition and a panel discussion, the Architectural Guild has a number of exciting events and programs scheduled for the coming months; don't miss out!

space still available!

1/11/07 Panel Discussion

Protect of Replace:*What is the Value of Historic Preservation?

Join us for the second in a series of panel discussions on topics related to architecture/real estate/building economics, presented by LA Architect Magazine, RICS, APT, the USC School of Policy, Planning, and Development, and the Architectural Guild. Our first event in September brought a full house and generated a lively discussion about green development; this time we will focus on historic preservation - specifically, what conditions are needed for profitability and when is bulldozing the answer?

rewarding program that connects USC School of Architecture students (3rd year undergraduates and above) and experienced professionals in the fields of architecture, building, real estate, and engineering. In this mutually beneficial relationship, students share their academic, social, and career goals, while mentors strive to inform, inspire, guide, nurture, and encourage their mentee to reach their full potential. More information and an application are available here.

Mark Your Calendar!

2/1/07 Mixer and Basketball Game

Courtside with the Guild

Courtside with the Guild is an annual Architectural Guild event that brings together architecture students and professionals for a mixer followed by a USC Men's Basketball game. Mark your calendar to join us in rooting for our Trojans as they battle Oregon State on Thursday, February 1, 2007 at their new home court, the USC Galen Center. Guild members and friends will be able to check out this state-of-the-art athletics venue and enjoy the game in our pre-reserved section, so mark your calendar! Stay tuned for more information; invitations will be distributed later this month.
